A business meeting of the Berry street chapter of the Epworth league will be held at the Berry street M. E. church Friday evening, in connection with a meeting of the organ circle. It is important that every Epworth league member be present. Delegates will be selected to the state convention to be held at Richmond, and other business requires attention.

Last evening a gentleman was driving along West Main street when, meeting an electric car, the horse began to rear and plunge. The man in the the buggy and the street car conductor jumped to the ground and held the fractious animal until the car passed; but nevertheless one of the springs in the buggy was broken and the woman, who occupied the seat was badly frightened.

Misses Helen Beeks and Connie Edgerton, of Chicago, and Miss Julia Taylor, of this city, were delightfully entertained by Dr. C. S. Smith and daughter, Carrie, at their rooms in the Pixley-Long block, yesterday afternoon. At 6 o'clock dinner was partaken of at the Aveline house. The young ladies from Chicago, who have been visiting here for three weeks, will return home in a few days.

Mrs. Charles H. Philley and daughter, Miss Anna Philley, write relatives in this city that they are having a grand time in the east. Today, at Earlsville, N. Y., the ladies will attend a reunion of the Rees-Gillet families, of which they are descendants. Mrs. Rees, one of the oldest of the family, died a few years ago at the age of 102 years. She possessed rare musical talents and when 100 years old took active part in a concert. She was the great grandmother of Mrs. Charles Philley.

Last evening E. L. Matthews, the well known traveling man for the Foster Plumbing company, of Cleveland, had quite an experience in catching a train. A friend drove by his hotel, the Randall, and seeing him, satchel in hand, inquired if he was going to the depot. He was, of course, and jumping into the friend's buggy he was driven to the Lake Shore depot. Matthews walked smilingly up to the ticket office and asked for a ticket to Decatur. Imagine his surprise when he learned he would have to take the Grand Rapids and Indiana train for Decatur. Glancing at his watch he saw that the train would leave in five minutes from the south depot. His friend offered to drive him up and they started. Shortly they met a hack which Mr. Matthews chartered and reached the depot just in time to catch the moving Grand Rapids and Indiana train.

Hon. R. C. Bell returned last night from Indianapolis, where he appeared before the state board of tax commissioners in the interests of the Nickel Plate, Lake Shore and Lake Erie and Western railways. He will make another appeal to the board some time during this month.

A number of boys ranging in age from ten to sixteen years, last evening raised a sixty-five foot hickory pole at the corner of Nelson and Wilt streets. With the boys in line there is no reason why older democrats should not get to work and assist in rolling up an unprecedented majority for Grover Cleveland in this county.

Harry Allen, a bicycle rider, tried to force a street car off the track last night. The horse car had the best of it and Allen who fell under the horse's feet had a narrow escape from receiving serious injuries. He got up, however, and rode his bicycle away, convinced that in a collision the street car would have the best of it nine times in ten.

Miss Mattie B. Graham entertained a few friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Graham, 220 East Lewis street, last evening, in honor of her grandmother, aunt and uncle, from Allegheny, Pa. The Echo Musical club, of the east end, rendered some fine selections of music for the occasion. The evening was passed very pleasantly and everybody went home well pleased. Miss Mattie expects to accompany her grandmother to Allegheny Friday evening.

Last evening a "gentleman and lady," so-called, registered at one of our leading hotels. The man was assigned a room on the second floor and the "lady" a room on the third floor. Presently one of the employes of the hotel saw the lady stroll leisurely down the stairway and enter the room of her gentleman friend. The clerk was notified and on investigation found the door of the room locked. The couple were forced to open it and in less than three minutes they were unceremoniously fired into the street.

Judge Ninde is in New York.

Miss Annie Miller left today for the east.

Mrs. Dr. Porter and daughter are at Rome City.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Lamont—a son.

Miss Anna Wetz, of Wabash, is visiting in the city.

Neat invitations are out for the picnic to be given next Tuesday evening in Williams' grove, by Misses Gertrude Lindsey and Grace Howell in honor of Miss Clara Burt, of Portsmouth, Ohio.

The Western Union Telegraph company has made an appeal from its assessment in Allen county, making a separate appeal in the case of each of the sixteen townships. The assessment is more than twice as high as the company thinks fair.

A nine-months-old child of Fred Meyers, the blacksmith, who lives on Wallace street, fell from the second story window of his residence, yesterday, striking on a pavement below. The little one received a few slight bruises on the face.

In an explosion of gas on the line of the Salimonie Gas company, near Montpelier, last evening, a laborer named Oken was killed and several others injured. The accident occurred on a new line just being laid and was caused, probably, by imperfect plumbing.

A large number of Fort Wayne people went to Rome City this morning. Most of them were republicans who went to attend the congressional convention. A few, however, were democrats, who went up to hear Hon. Claude Matthews deliver his address on the political issues of the day. Governor Chase also delivered an address.

Geo. Brown and O. B. Wiley returned this morning from Cincinnati, in which city they made a book on the trotting races Tuesday. The police notified the bookmakers and pool sellers that they were violating the law and would have to cease making books and selling pools. The gambling devices, such as the roulette wheel, hazzard, etc., were taken possession of by the officers.

The Misses Brunner, of West Main street, entertained a select party last night in honor of the twelfth birthday of their youngest sister, Clara. The evening was pleasantly spent amid music, singing and a young folks' Japanese tea party. Among those present were Misses Metha Ball, Eva Wagner, Tillie Roach, Tadonia Trebes, Tillie Wagner and Messrs. Henry Loring and Murphy O'Hea.

A Hole in the Wedding Gown.

At Bautzen, in Saxony, Germany, a bridal procession was starting to go to church, when the dress of the bride caught on the knob of the door, which made a big rent in it. It was quickly mended, but the heart of the bride palpitated at the evil omen. Passing through the door of the church the dress again caught on a hook and a hole larger than the first was made. That was too much of a bad portent for the bride. She turned about abruptly and would not be held back. Neither her family or the bridegroom was able to make any impression on her. She would not run into a life of bad luck with her eyes opened. Now the bereaved groom is looking for another mate.

Running Away of a 30-Month-Old Boy.

Great precocity showed a boy of only 2½ years, whose parents, residing at Berlin, had taken him with them on a visit to Potsdam. One morning the little fellow disappeared. Inquiries at the depot found that the boy had taken a train to Berlin, the conductors believing him to belong to some passengers and allowing him to pass. A telegram was sent instructing the police at Berlin to arrest the baby on his arrival, which was done. The mother went by the next train and took her little deserter back to Potsdam.

KIND WORDS

Said by Gen. Reub Williams of the Evening Sentinel.

On Saturday of last week Gen. Reub Williams, who, with Quincy Hossler, is publishing the Warsaw Daily Times, had this to say in his paper: "We are always pleased to note the signs of prosperity attending the publication of newspapers. As a rule, the publishing business is most difficult to manage financially, and it is only within the past few years that in this particular here and there, country journals, especially, have been successful. The fault has never been so much in their earnings as the loose collection of what was due—generally reaching up into hundreds of dollars, always in small amounts, and hopelessly scattered over a large area of country. Of late years publishers have adopted, to a greater or less extent, the advance plan always pursued by city journals, thus placing their means at their own disposal, instead of being scattered over a wide area that would cost more to collect than the sum amounted to after that was done—if such a thing could be done at all. In order to give his readers a good paper its publisher must receive its earnings; for, if it is not successful financially, no matter how good it may be in a journalistic sense, it can not be kept up to the standard mapped out. We are led to make these few remarks by noticing the fact that THE FORT WAYNE EVENING SENTINEL has just been equipped with a brand-new perfecting press, and is now printed therefrom. The new machine prints its sheet from a continuous roll of paper, the ingenious mechanism of which also cuts and folds the paper and turns it out in a complete form ready for the readers' use. Mr. E. A. K. Hackett, since he became the sole proprietor of the SENTINEL, has made it a complete success in every way. He is one of the class of men to whom we have alluded to above. He looks well to its business department, and when this feature is successful it very naturally follows that the reader is given a paper superior in every way known to the craft. Therefore, if a community desires to have a wide-awake, enterprising, reliable newspaper, the best way in the world to secure such a desideratum is to promptly pay every penny due it. It has only been by the close collecting of the earnings that THE SENTINEL has been made such an excellent, readable journal, and has now enabled its enterprising publishers to add a piece of machinery that to see it work seems almost endowed with thinking powers. We wish THE SENTINEL much success, save its politics."

Found a Treasure.

A painting of the Infant Jesus in the possession of a New York family has a curious history. It was sold to a member of the family many years ago, and the merchant declared his belief that it was a Guido Reno, although he was too honest to certify to the fact. Years later the purchaser saw in a print shop an engraving of a madonna and child and recognized a reproduction of a part of his picture. He turned the picture over to a cleaner of oil paintings and the latter, on taking off the frame, discovered part of the canvass doubled upon itself. Spreading out the whole canvass, he began to scrape at the point where, according to the engraving, the madonna should be. In due time he was rewarded, for the madonna's face appeared, and the painting was plainly the original of the engraving. The latter was a copy of a Guido Reno.

Maine's Lax Law.

The Maine law relating to boiler inspection needs bracing up if ever a statute did. In that state almost anybody is called an engineer. An instance is recalled where the boiler of a large factory was left to the care of any one of a half dozen persons, none of them having an engineer's certificate. One of the men, being nearsighted, thought he saw a startling rise in the steam guage, and fled precipitately to the top of a neighboring hill to await the expected crash, which never came. Another "engineer" is said to have removed the steam guage altogether, and when asked his reason for doing so, the "genius" replied that he "had the safety valve to depend upon."

An Exceptional Case.

Quester—"That's a terrible disease we're being everywhere visited by nowadays with such fatal effect—I mean heart failure. Do you know anything of it?" Jester—"Know anything of it? I should say I did. I had it so badly once that I nearly died." Quester—"Go away! Nearly died! Why, heart failure always kills." Jester—"Not always. This was a case where I proposed to a young lady and her heart failed to reciprocate my love."—Boston Courier.

More Honorable Out Than In.

A brilliant young London surgeon has aroused the hostility of the profession by his outspoken denunciation of overdrugging and his advocacy of dietetic treatment of disease, and as a result his name was removed from the medical register. He has taken action to have his name restored.

Difficulty for Female Auctioneers.

Miss Elder—Well I maintain that women can do anything men can.

Mr. Gazzam—Oh, no. The auctioneer's business is one women cannot go into.

Miss Elder—Nonsense. She'd make every bit as good an auctioneer as a man.

Mr. Gazzam—Well, just imagine an unmarried woman getting up before a crowd and exclaiming, "Now, gentlemen, all I want is an offer."—Sun.

A Reminder.

"You refuse to change that counterfeit bill for me, and yet you call yourself a Christian," he said.

"What's that got to do with it?" asked the other.

"You should always return good for evil."—Puck.

What Worries Him.

"I don't mind being shot," confided one English sparrow to another. "It's being served up as a reed bird that hurts my feelings."

"Why does that trouble you?"

"Because it is making game of me."—Brooklyn Life.

But Can She!

Mrs. Berkeley-Jones—So Evelyn Purseful is going to marry the Count Ardupp.

Berkeley-Jones—I suppose she expects to husband her fortune.—Kate Field's Washington.

EMERGENCY CARS.

The Pennsylvania Company Will Build 100 of Them.

Orders have been given by the executive committee of the Pennsylvania company to build 100 emergency cars for the world's fair travel. The cars will be neat in appearance and comfortable to ride in for short distances. They will have wide windows and comfortable seats. It is the intention to use the cars only when the regular equipment is inadequate to handle the business, and they will then be used only within a radius of 100 miles of Chicago. The cars will be built at the shops of the company in this city and at Columbus, Ohio.

"The Cave of Spiders."

The "ice caves," the "blue grottoes" and other natural freaks of that ilk are completely laid in the shade by the Colorado "cave of spiders." It is situated near Buena Vista, and is said to literally swarm with spiders of a curious species and of immense size. The "cave of spiders" was discovered in 1879. The webs woven by this odd subterranean species of aranea are said to be as strong as ordinary "button hole twist" and of a bright, shining yellow color.

BLOODY TIMES.

The Arabs Defend Their Slave Trading Business With Arms—Blood Flows Freely.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 12.—Dispatches from Zanzibar bring news of a thrilling character. The Arab insurrection under Roumaliza has spread from Tanganyika to Stanley Falls and what was merely a local demonstration has developed into a genuine uprising of the Arabs of Central Africa against the white population. The Arabs have grown desperate, owing to the evident determination of the whites to suppress the slave trade by which the Arabs have accumulated their wealth and established their power. They were greatly encouraged by the disaster to the British under Captain Maguire last December, when Captain Maguire and two other Englishmen lost their lives in a conflict with slave traders, and the Arabs were still more strengthened in their hostile attitude by the more recent successful attack on Fort Johnston. Full particulars show that an attack on the fort was made by the natives under Arab leadership and a seven-pounder gun was captured. It appears that Fort Johnston is very small and is inconveniently crowded. No hostile natives had been seen for some time and the garrison had been lulled into a false sense of security. Two of the white men with some of the Sikhs and a seven-pounder gun were located just outside the fort, when they were surprised during the night by a body of natives, who surrounded the Europeans and succeeded in capturing the gun. Majkajila and Kasembo, Arab chiefs, incensed by the stoppage of their remunerative traffic in slaves, entered into communication with the Arabs, telling of their success against the British and urging them to join in a general movement to drive the whites from Central Africa. From the advices received at Zanzibar it is feared that Rachid, the nephew and successor of Tippoo Tib, at Stanley Falls, has joined in the insurrectionary movement and declared his hostility to the whites, with whom he has pretended to be on terms of friendship. It is also understood that Rachid has unfurled the standard of rebellion and called upon his own followers and other chiefs, both native and Arab, to join against the white men and assist in restoring Arab supremacy. A conflict has taken place and it is known for a certainity that three whites and probably many more were killed and that the Arabs, under Rachid, are now in full control of the Congo at Stanley Falls. The followers of Rachid are armed in most part with improved European rifles and Rachid has for some time past been a large purchaser of amunition, his eagerness in this respect having aroused some suspicion among the whites. What has become of the European sargent who represents the authority of the Congo Free State at Stanley Falls is not known, but it is feared that he has perished. The greatest anxiety is felt for the safety of the expeditions under Captain Jacques and Captain Joubert, which were sent out to suppress the slave trade. The Arabs have sworn to exterminate both expeditions, as a lesson to the whites not to interfere with the traffic. It is known that at last accounts a large force of Arabs had gone in search of Jourbert. The news from the seat of insurrection is of the most meagre kind, but it is sufficient to cause the gravest anxiety to be felt, not only for the antislavery expeditions mentioned, but also for the Catholic and Protestant missions at Tanganyika and the Hodister commercial expedition to the Lomami river, as well as for the security of a number of free state officials on the Upper Congo. Many Europeans at Zanzibar are inclined to charge the Portugese with having stimulated the Arab uprising and supplied arms and ammunition to the Arabs, in order to drive other European nations out of central Africa. The Arabs in Zanzibar do not conceal their satisfaction with the news, as there is deep irritation there on account of interference with the slave trade of the French which interference has greatly injured business at Zanzibar and Pembina. The slave trade is in a most depressed condition owing to the lack of slave labor and many of the planters see nothing but ruin confronting them. In this condition of affairs the uprising of the slave trading Arabs has the earnest sympathy of the slave owing Arabs and it is said that the insurrection has ramifications extending from Zanzibar to Angola.

FALLING WALLS

Carry With Them Five Laborers to Their Death.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Aug. 12.—At 3:35 yesterday afternoon the heavy stone walls in the tank room of the new glass factory of Hartford City caved in, killing five men and injuring two others.

The killed and injured are: Alex Moore, laborer, killed; Albert Inman, laborer, killed; W. H. Foreman, laborer, killed; Charles Sawyer, bricklayer, killed; Cyrus Epply, boss bricklayer, badly injured; Press Cradshaw, laborer, badly hurt. The caving was caused by the pressure of the filling that had been placed behind the walls.

A water boy had warned the men that the wall was falling, and they were attempting to prop it up when it fell upon them. Moore, Inman, Foreman, Pummell and Sawyer were instantly killed. Epply, the boss bricklayer, was pinioned to the earth by a huge stone. Press Cradshaw was buried up to his waist and was badly injured.

Moore, Inman, Foreman and Pummell have families. Thousands of people were on the scene in a few minutes and the mangled forms were soon taken out and taken to the undertakers. Another wall that was considered dangerous had but recently been propped.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

Campaigning Gives Way to Gaiety of the Liveliest Form—Boston Gets the Next Conclave.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 12.—Today was visiting day among the knights still in the city and not engaged in the work of the grand encampment. When the officers had all been elected and the location of the next conclave finally selected at Boston the main interest in the session subsided and campaigning gave way to gaiety of the livliest sort. The Boston commandery had departed long before the decision was made, but there were plenty of Massachusetts people left and today they are busy at the Glenarm hotel entertaining their callers and receiving congratulations. The callers come in crowds. It has come to be the regular thing for a commandery to form at any reasonable hour and preceded by its own band, make a tour of the headquarters. These processions were on the go all the morning. Massachusetts headquarters probably had the most visitors, but Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri and Michigan all had as much as they could do to care for the crowds that came. Tonight the festivities will close with the grandest social event of the conclave. With an immense banquet, given to the eminent grand encampment by the Denver knights. Preparations have been made to have it on such a scale as will be hard to equal anywhere. Money has been lavishly spent to procure everything of the best and if the commandery is not well satisfied with the result it will be because they are not to be suited on earth. The dining rooms of the Windsor will be gorgeously decorated. In fact all has been arranged to make the banquet a success in every way. During today the business was to act on the recommendations of the eminent grand commander and fix up other matters which will always be brought to the attention of such bodies. Among other things is the setting of the time for the adjournment of the session at the top of Pike's Peak. This is likely to be tomorrow as the business will be in proper shape by that time.

A COOL ROBBER

Steals a Truck, Forges an Order and Secures a Lot of Tobacco.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—A cool, bold robber drove into the dock where the Diadem had arrived on Tuesday afternoon and presented an order alleged to have been issued by Cohen & Co., of Water street, for forty-six bales of tobacco, consigned to the bonded warehouse. He loaded twenty-five bales on his truck and drove off, stating that he would call for the remainder the next day, Wednesday. Wednesday morning, however, a truckman sent by Cohen & Co. arrived on the dock and was surprised to find only twenty-one bales remaining. Cohen & Co. were notified, and investigation showed that the thieves who had concocted the robbery had stolen a licensed warehouse truck and had forged the order. Government detectives and Superintendent Byrens have been notified. The value of the stolen bales aggregated $12,000.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY

Is Obtained for Murderer King by a System of Forgery.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 12.—As governor Brown, of Kentuck, and others have said they did not write to Governor Buchanan praying for executive clemency in behalf of King, certain people of this city propose to find out who forged the letters, and the governor will be asked to ascertain who duped him. A telegram was published in a morning paper which represents the governor as making certain threats against the people of Memphis if they burn him in effigy any more. One of the participants in the effigy burning business remarked this morning that if his excellency would show his face in Memphis he might be treated to a ducking in the Mississippi river or a coat of tar and feathers.

MIGHTY FLOODS

Visit Spain, Leaving Desolation and Misery Behind Them.

MADRID, Aug. 12.—Heavy storms are sweeping over Spain and are doing an immense amount of damage. The rain is falling in torrents and is destroying the grape and olive crops. Much damage has been done by the rivers overflowing their banks and in some places the low country adjacent to the river resembles huge lakes. In Huesca, the Ifala river is out of its banks. The flood has already carried away thirty houses and it is feared that other damage will be done.

THE PENALTY FOR DISOBEDIENCE

A Motorman Loses Both Legs in a Collision.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 12.—About 12 o'clock, midnight, an Eighth avenue electric car and a Circle railroad train came into collision at South Water street. It was reported at first that one person was killed and several passengers fatally injured, but investigation shows that the motorman of the electric car, W. C. Sezinger, is the only one injured. He had both legs torn off and will die. The collision was caused by the motorman disobeying instructions.

Mr. Joe Falls, of Poe, Ind., was in the city today.

ENGLISH COMMENTS

On the Tory Rout—Gladstone's Victory the All Absorbing Topic of Conversation.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Post says: "A sight more earnest or impressive than yesterday's scene in parliament has rarely been witnessed within the walls of St. Stephens. Although defeated, the unionists will reassemble undiminished in numbers and unfailing in resolution. Mr. Gladstone will have to deal with the strongest and most united majority that ever assembled in parliament." The News says: "The government of pledge breaking coercionists is virtually dead. It is noticeable that the whole of Mr. Chamberlain's remarks were addressed to the liberals. That does not look as if he thought the tories had any future or he had anything to gain by going over to them." The Telegraph says: "The Gladstonians' silence in the debate is an unbashed confession that their alliance with the Irish is a sham and an imposture. The sole basis of agreement is a desire to oust the government. They accept without a word of protest the charge of having concocted a bogus majority merely to upset the government and are content to climb into power without wasting a single sophism in their own defense. We should pronounce it incredible did not the unromantic parliament report prove that it occurred."

The Times says: "It is a party victory won on party grounds and to be employed for party objects. No government that has remained in office for six years has enjoyed the same measure of success with the government just defeated. Blunders and disasters there are none to lay to the charge of the unionist ministry. So comes to an end a ministry which has performed work the value of which has not been destroyed by the temporary triumph of a system of pandering to the greed and passion of the masses that out does the most extravagant of the lights of aristophanic sattire."

HORRIBLE DEATH.

Two Boys Smothered in an Unused Ice Box—Their Dead Bodies Found.

LANSING, Mich., Aug. 12—Earl Price and Arthur Kurtz, both of North Lansing, met with a horrible death late yesterday afternoon. The boys, each of whom was about eight years old, were playmates. They were missed late in the afternoon and although a large crowd of neighbors searched for them until midnight no trace of them was found. About 1 o'clock this morning the Price boy's father thought of an unused ice chest at his house into which his children had at times crawled to play and on opening the chest the two boys were found dead. The interior of the chest was but two feet and five inches long, eighteen inches wide and twenty-one inches deep. The bodies were crowded into this small space facing each other. It was evident that after the boys squeezed themselves into the box their movements caused the covers to fall and the clasp on the outside cover closed over the staple, fastening them in so that escape was impossible.

SENATOR ALLEN ENDORSED.

The Republicans of Washington Stand by His Record.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 12.—The republican state convention has renominated John L. Wilson, of Spokane, and nominated W. H. Dolittle, of Tacoma, for congress; for governor, John H. McGraw, of Seattle; for lieutenant governor, F. H. Luse, of Davenport; for secretary of state, James H. Price, of Tacoma; for attorney general, W. C. Jones, of Spokane; for treasurer, O. A. Bowen, of Skamakawa; for auditor, L. R. Grimes, of Ellensburg; for land commissioner, W. F. Forest; for state printer, O. C. White, of Olymphia; for presidential electors, G. V. Calhoun, J. B. McMillan, I. I. Navarro and C. H. White. The action of the convention is an endorsement of Senator Allen's course and he will probably be re-elected.

ARRAIGNED FOR MURDER.

Lizzie A. Borden Charged With Her Father's Death.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 12.—Lizzie A. Borden was arraigned in the second district court before Judge J. C. Blaisdell, this morning, on charges of homicide arising from the killing of her father and stepmother. The court room was crowded to suffocation by a motley crowd of curious people in no way directly interested, and Miss Borden's friends at court were very few in number. Mr. Morse, Bridget Sullivan, Miss Emma Borden and City Missionary Buck were present. Miss Borden, the prisoner, was represented by Andrew J. Jennings. Miss Borden was dressed in a dark blue tailor made gown and wore a black lace hat, adorned with a few red berries. She looked in much better condition than she was in last night, just before her arrest.

She entered the court room leaning on Missionary Buck's arm. She was somewhat nervous but did not show feeling by either tears or trembling. She was then asked to plead to charges of homicide and did so, saying "not guilty." Miss Borden's counsel moved for a trial at once. District Attorney Knowlton asked for a continuance until Monday, August 22, and it was granted. Mr. Morse and Bridget Sullivan were then held as witnesses in the sum of $500 each. Miss Borden was asked to stand up and was committed without bail. She left the court room leaning on Mr. Buck's arm, and was closely followed by City Marshal Hillyard, who again placed her in charge of the local matron until a week from Monday. At that time it is expected that a preliminary trial will be commenced before Judge Blaisdell.

STRIKERS JUBILANT.

The Nonunion Men Become Dissatisfied and Now Threaten to Strike Tonight.

DUQUESNE, Pa., Aug. 12.—It is rumored that the men in the Carnegie mill here will strike tonight. Several of them at work today were seen and say that the men are dissatisfied and will go on a strike tonight. It is also stated that the railroad employes will not handle any freight for the Carnegie firm, but this is not confirmed. The amalgamated men are jubilant and say they expected as much. The officials at the mill refuse to talk.

THE STORY RIDICULED.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 12.—The story published this morning that Anarchist Aaronstamm, a friend of the would-be assassin, Berkman, is in Pittsburg and under oath to do what Berkman failed to do—kill H. C. Frick—created considerable anxiety and excitement for a time. At noon today, in a talk with a reporter of the United Press, Chief of Police Roger O'Mara ridiculed the published story, and notwithstanding the alleged statements of the Austrian vice counsel to the American police bureau in New York, Superintendent O'Mara pronounces the whole matter absolutely false and without the slightest foundation in any particular. He said the Pittsburg department of public safety has received no information or warning concerning any such man as described. The police are not on the lookout for such an individual. No description or word concerning Aaronstamm has been furnished the Pittsburg police from any source. No additional precautions for the protection of Mr. H. C. Frick or any other member of the Carnegie Steel company have been provided and none are contemplated. No special officers are stationed as a guard at Mr. Frick's residence in the east end or accompany him when he is on the streets. Secretary Lovejoy, of the Carnegie Steel company, was seen and said: "While we believe there maybe something in the story and that the man described may have left New York for Pittsburg we do not believe that he is in Pittsburg and have taken no precautions. The police will attend to that. Two detectives continue on duty at the entrance and inside the Carnegie office building, as they have since the day of the attack upon Mr. Frick."

Last night and this morning the strikers patrol committee at Lawrenceville union mills induced five or more of the skilled non-union workers to come out. Among them was Charles Jefferies, the boss roller, who came from Philadelphia.

While the men still claim that they are firm and that their ranks are unbroken, yet there is grave reason to believe that there will be some radical change in this great strike in the near future. About fifteen of the leaders are absent from the city. They have been hastily summoned. The general impression among the men is that the strikers are to confer on the advisability of acceptin; the firm's terms, which are said to be even higher than paid by other firms that have signed the scale. At the company's offices the officials declined to discuss the situation or to give any information concerning the state of affairs. They say, however, that the mill is running satisfactorily to them. A general meeting of strikers has been called for this evening.

DIDN'T WANT IT KNOWN,

But the Secret is Heralded Broadcast Over the Land.

WAUKESHA, Wis., Aug. 12.—Last night, at the Fountain house, A. F. Barnes, treasurer of the Chicago opera house, was married to Miss Catherine Hand, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Hand, of the same city, who was present at the ceremony. Arrangements for the wedding were made here on a telegraphic order. The groom was in hopes to keep his wedding out of the newspapers and showed considerable surprise when he was asked by a reporter for some of the particulars as to his stay here. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will remain here a few days before returning to Chicago.

Montana Rioters Sentenced.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Aug. 12.—Judge Beatty yesterday imposed sentences varying from four to eight months' imprisonment in the county jail upon nine of the Montana rioters and discharged eleven of them.

President Harrison at Loon Lake.

LOON LAKE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—It is learned that President Harrison will not leave Loon Lake until about September 1.

BELVA ANN LOCKWOOD is very much opposed to any military display at the opening of the Columbian Exposition. In the July number of the American Journal of Politics she demands a display of olive branches, plowshares and pruning-hooks instead of the "pomp and circumstance of glorious war." As Belva has never been able to get everything she has wanted, she may as well brace herself for another disappointment. The rest of the world wants to know how our soldiers look and our soldiers want to be looked at.

A POLITICAL SURPRISE.

Judge Gresham Will Take the Stump for the People's Party—His First Speech.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12—The national people's party headquarters today were alive with enthusiastic workers, all of whom are jubilant over a telegram received, and its contents verified by a letter, to the effect that Judge Gresham had concluded to take the stump, in the interest of the third party, and would make his opening speech at Indianapolis, the latter part of this month. Chairman Taubeneck received this intelligence from the chairman of the state committee of Indiana, to whom Judge Gresham had written, declaring his intention and setting forth his reasons for making a campaign in the interest of General Weaver. In his report to the national headquarters, the chairman of the Indiana committee states that Judge Gresham, in apprising him of his intentions, informed him by letter that he did not refuse the presidential nomination because he was not in sympathy with the party, but for a reason that was entirely personal and not political.

THE FEELING AT INDIANAPOLIS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 12.—The dispatch today from St. Louis stating that Judge Gresham would take the stump for the people's party created a profound surprise among his friends in this city. The third party following was greatly elated, and tonight their headquarters in this city are immensely jubilant.

Chairman Strange, to whom Gresham's letter is said to have been addressed, is at his home in Grant county; but Henry Vincent, editor of the American Non-Conformist, their national organ, is here.

"I knew nothing definite," he says, "until I saw the dispatch; but I knew something was coming. Otto Gresham, son of the judge, said to me ten days ago that there would be something from his father that would create surprise. This is what he referred to. I have had no word from Mr. Strange, and I have written to him for a copy of Gresham's letter."

Outside the third party circles there is a disposition to discredit the story. Late at night George C. Stoll, secretary of the people's party state central committee, was shown the dispatch.

"The fact has been stated right," said Mr. Stoll. "Taubeneck's letter was not from Chairman Strange, for he knows nothing of it. It was from myself. I told Taubneck that Judge Gresham had promised to make two speeches in support of Weaver if his health permitted."

"Upon what authority did you make the statement? From Judge Gresham?"

"Yes."

"From Judge Gresham directly?"

"No."

"Of whom did you get your information?"

"That I am not at liberty to state."

"Have you letters to show for the definite statement?"

"I had a letter containing authority for my statement to Taubeneck, but I burned it up not an hour ago."

"Why did you do that?"

"I always burn by letters. I had answered it, and that settled it. If I should undertake to keep all my letters I would be crowded out of the room."

"Upon what authority did your correspondent commit Judge Gresham to a promise to make two speeches?"

"Upon the authority of Judge Gresham himself."

"What will be the date of his speeches, and where will they be delivered?"

"One will be made in Chicago and one in Indiana. The dates are not yet determined upon. We are counting on two speeches from him for General Weaver."

SOUVENIR COINS.

The World Fair Directors Offered $7,500,000 for the Lot.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—When the board of directors of the world's fair meets this afternoon it may take some action in regard to the disposition it will make of those 5,000,000 souvenir coins. Yesterday Treasurer Seeberger received a number of new offers to pay premiums on the desirable half dollars, the largest of them being an offer to pay $7,500,000 for the lot, which is worth in currency $2,500,000. This offer, which is the largest yet received, came from the Horton company.

DESTROYING FLAMES

Cause Heavy Losses in Washington and Elsewhere.

ST. JOHNS, N. B., Aug. 12.—The Gazette building was partly destroyed and the plant damaged by fire last night. The loss is heavy but fully insured.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Hotel Stratford, a new six-story building at the corner of Fourteenth and H streets, badly damaged by fire this morning. Loss on furniture and fixtures is estimated at about $24,000; insurance, $14,000. Loss on building, about $20,000; fully covered by insurance.

NOTABLE WEDDING.

Sitting Bull's Daughter Marries a White Man.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Aug. 12.—A daughter of the great Indian chief, Sitting Bull, and Peter Markle, formerly of the United States army, were married here yesterday at the residence of William VanBraemer. Markle, it is said, served with Custer, and it is reported that his bride once saved his life when attacked by Indians.

Harry Gilbert returned from Grand Rapids today.

MONEY DIDN'T BUY HER.

Moses Bradford, an Indiana Millionaire, Lost the Fair Young Widow He Sought.

Readers of THE SENTINEL will remember the account published in this paper about a year or two ago of the marriage of Moses Bradford, a millionaire of Marion, Ind., to a young lady who was formerly employed in this city as a milliner. Their wedded life only lasted a few months, for the wife had more love for her husband's money than she did for him, and as a consequence they were soon divorced. Hence the following telegram from Muncie will be of interest:

MUNCIE, Ind., Aug. 12.—A romance in real life was developed here yesterday. The affair for some reason was to have culminated Wednesday, but was postponed.

Moses Bradford, an aged millionaire of Marion, Ind., was married to Mrs. D. J. Mackey, of this city, but was divorsed a short time afterwards. He found it next to impossible to live without a helpmate, so he wrote to Mrs. Dollie Snyder, of this city, so it is alleged, offering her $1,000 if she would secure him a bride.

This is a large sum of money for so light a task, and the person who received the letter commenced at once hunting around for the prospective bride, who was found in the person of Mrs. Ida Danto, a comely widow, aged probably twenty-eight years.

Mrs. Danto is the widow of a French detective, and formerly resided at New Orleans. She is said to be an excellent lady, and the families in which she has lately been employed as a domestic speak very highly of her. Mrs. Danto, according to report, has also been receiving the attentions of Judge Joseph Duckwall, who is, like Bradford, well off in this world's goods. It is said the judge and the charming widow are engaged. Bradford is the richest, however, and visions of luxury and finery are very potent, and she is reported as saying that she would marry Bradford providing he would make her a cash present of the modest sum of $60,000.

Yesterday Bradford came to this city to meet his intended. He stopped at the Kirby house, and in the afternoon called at Mrs. Snyder's residence on Gilbert street, and was introduced to Mrs. Danto, the prospective bride.

In the meantime Judge Duckwall had received an inkling of the proceedings and walked the pavement in front of the house till the sawed sandstone was warm, keeping watch to prevent a wedding without his presence as one of the principals.

It was learned that after seeing and talking with Mr. Bradford, Mrs. Danto failed to be impressed with his charms and the old man took his sorrowful departure for home. This leaves Judge Duckwall the successful suitor for the charming widow's hand.

JOHN BLAKE'S MUSICIANS.

A Visitation from the Feeble-Minded—Trip to Plainfield.

(Indianapolis News.)

The band of the Indiana School for Feeble-Minded Youth made music in Indianapolis to-day. The boys of the band are out with Superintendent John G. Blake on a pleasure trip to the Reform school at Plainfield, where they go this evening to spend several days. There are two bands at the school, and this is No. 1. Those of the second band who show proficiency are promoted to the first, and they look forward to this eagerly, for it is the only band No. 1 that enjoys such larks as that of to-day. The boys ate dinner at the Denison and then paraded the streets, serenading The News on the way. The members of the band may be Feeble-Minded, but you would'nt know it from their music. The band was organized 1890 and has made excellent progress. At Plainfield it will engage in a friendly contest with the band of the reform school, and will find some efficient musicians in that organization. The whole school there will turn out to receive the visitors. The members of the band here to-day are:

Henry Grodzik, leader; Willie Leppard, drum major; James Bradley, B tuba; Ed Cahill, B bass; George Archer, baritone; John Woodard, solo alto; Louis Pettiford, second alto; H. W. George, first tenor; Joseph Bradley, second tenor; Joseph Weibel, E flat cornet; Frank Shultz, solo cornet; Robert Wise, first cornet; Thomas Hindman, tenor drum; Jared Weibel, cymbals; George Sharp, bass drum; Elmer Eaton, banner carrier.

HOTEL RANDALL.

Dick Townsend is Making the Hotel Very Popular.

The Hotel Randall, under the efficient management of genial Dick Townsend, is now in the very front rank of hotels, and enjoys a patronage that is second to none. This popular hostelry sets before its guests the finest of meals; its rooms are large, airy and nicely furnished; its waiters are the best, and its clerks and proprietor always pleasant and obliging. There isn't a better or more home-like place in the country to stop at than the Hotel Randall and Mr. Townsend is deserving of the success he has attained. His hotel is popular with all the traveling men.

A CYCLIST HURT.

Ed. Hill Painfully Injured Ten Miles From the City.

Assistant Foreman George Schmoll and Edward Hill, of the Pittsburg machine shop, made a bicycle run thirteen miles out on the Huntington road last evening. Upon their return trip and when within ten miles of the city, Mr. Hill's wheel struck an obstruction in the road and the rider was thrown violently to the ground. In the fall his left hip was so badly bruised and sprained that he could not continue the journey. Mr. Schmoll procured a conveyance from a farmer and brought his unfortunate friend to the city. This morning Mr. Hill is a helpless sufferer. His limb is causing him great agony and he cannot leave his bed. The unfortunate man lives in the old Graffmiller house, on Calhoun street.

STALEY CAPTURED.

The Woodburn Robber at Last Behind the Bars—He Pleads Guilty and is Bound Over.

Last winter Mr. Richard Johnson, a farmer living near Woodburn, had in his employ Al. Staley, a man about thirty years of age. One Sunday last February Mr. Johnson, with his family, went to church and left Staley in charge of the house, in which was carefully stored away $174 for safe keeping.

When the family returned Staley was missing and so was the money. The officers were immediately notified and began a search for Staley. Sheriff Viberg made one trip to Lima in search of him and Deputy Sheriff Wilkinson made another to Leipsic, Ohio, but failed to locate their man.

Nothing was heard from him until yesterday, when he was seen on the streets at Antwerp, Ohio. He met a friend and changed his old slouch hat for a plug hat, hoping in this manner to escape identification. Several persons knew him, however, and notified the marshal, who arrested him in one of Antwerp's saloons.

He was brought to this city and placed in jail, where he remained over night. On his person were found seven cents, all that remained of the $174 stolen from Mr. Johnson. Staley told the officers that he had been having a good time during the past few months in the east, having spent most of this time traveling through Pennsylvania.

This morning the thief was taken before Justice Wilkinson, and on a plea of guilty was bound over to the circuit court in the sum of $2,000.

COURT CULLINGS.

John Shraff and Frances Blurt have been licensed to wed.

The DePoutty-Gump assault case is on trial before Justice Wilkinson.

Mrs. Minnie Wedler, of Hanna street, has been adjudged insane.

The inquest of insanity in the case of the stranger confined at the county jail has not yet been completed by Justices France and Wilkinson.

Between the hours of 10 and 2 o'clock Wednesday some thief entered the residence of Mrs. Biddle, corner of Francis and Haydon streets, while that lady was down town. About $50 worth of jewelry, consisting of buttons, pins, etc., and two new suits of clothes were taken. The latter belonged to Christian Biddle, a machinist employed in the Fort Wayne Iron works, who makes his home with his mother. No clue to the thief.

Louis W. Schmidt was yesterday granted permission to build an addition to his house, corner Washington and Rockhill streets, to cost $200.

Justice France discharged Wm. Miller on the charge of provoking Henry Eider, but turned round and fined Eider for provoking Miller, and also fined Lizzie Miller for provoking Henry Eider.

Justice Tancey fined Frank Hake $1 and costs for provoking Anna Long and Anna Noble. Hake now has filed affidavits against the same parties for maintaining a nuisance. The parties live in Bloomingdale.

Constable Schlandroff went over to Riverside yesterday afternoon to arrest Jacob Peters, the man charged with beating his wife, but the fellow saw the officer coming and escaped by swimming the river. It is thought he is now at Chicago.

Constable Harrod went over into Erie street this morning for the purpose of arresting two women who were charged with prostitution by an affidavit filed in Justice Ryan's court, but when he got to the house he found the women had skipped.

LOCAL LINES.

The Pilsners play in Celina Sunday.

Frank Chalfant, of Bluffton, is in the city.

Carl Swain has returned from Rome City this time to stay.

Eight train loads of Knights of Pythias will pass east through the city Sunday morning.

Miss Etta Wadge left yesterday for Hoagland for a two weeks' visit. Her sister, Georgia, will join her Sunday.

F. McBennett has just completed a fine residence for John Dailey, at the corner of Charles and Lafayette streets.

Born, to Mrs. William Hassinger, of 93 St. Martin's street—a boy. The little one is a posthumous child, the father having been killed in a railroad accident last March.

The old musician, who has been impersonating a blind man on the streets for the last few days and holding out his tin cup for pennies, shouldered his music box and left yesterday.

W. J. Hecker, of 53 Madison street, while hanging paper in Seidel's block, was overcome with the heat and fell from a scaffold. He suffered injuries to his face and cut a deep gash in his head. Dr. A. J. Boswell attends him.

Sam J. Roberts, one of the best comedians who ever struck this city, continues to give his tented theater entertainment on Hamilton's field, in the southern part of the city. He has two farce plays on the stage this week and the entertainment pleases the audience.

You will never be a congressman. Do you catch the point.

The speech made by Secretary Matthews, our candidate for governor, at Rome City yesterday, is highly praised by those from this city who heard him.

The postal authorities at Washington have ruled that boxes of cigars sealed with the internal revenue stamps shall, when in the original package, be considered proprietary articles of merchandise, and therefore shall be subject to the fourth class postage rates. Some time ago a firm of manufacturers in a neighboring city prepared a lot of sample boxes of cigars for distribution among customers throughout the state, and after having them sealed with the revenue stamps, the manufacturers took the packages to the postoffice for mailing. The postmaster demanded the rates for sealed matter, but the manufacturers contended that the sealing was done by the government, and that they should not be held responsible. The latter claim was supported by the higher authorities.

A SPECIAL from Washington says that the published program of the president's movements during the fall concludes with the announcement that in October he will make a trip through the northwest. It has been learned that the trip is considered essential by the republican managers in that section and that extensive arrangements are in progress. In private the managers confess that the situation there is alarming for their party and the president's trip is the last card. The president will be surrounded by Senator McMillin, Secretary Rusk, Congressmen Burrows, Henderson, Dolliver and other lights. Ex-Senator Spooner is accredited with having suggested the journey. He confesses that no republican victory is to be expected there this fall without the hardest campaigning.

IT IS SAID in the east, whence these things chiefly come, that the republican campaign this year promises to surpass the democratic in the matter of political gewgaws, pins, badges, and symbols of all kinds, together with uniformed clubs and all devices that catch the eye and are supposed to excite the imagination. Various college republican clubs are to have distinctive uniforms and nothing in the way of "a swashing and a martial outside" is to be left undone. A million badges made of that mysterious substance known as "genuine American tin" have been ordered to represent "grandfather's hat." In Mr. Clarkson's address to the Republican League "much novelty" is urged, and "bicycle clubs," and "cavalry clubs," and "clubs of workingmen employed in new industries established under the McKinley bill," are advised.

HOW TO KEEP COOL.

Anybody can, of course, keep cool if they are able to run away from the city and enjoy the racy ocean or lake breeze or the fine scented zephyrs of the hills, but the stay-at-homes are the ones who are on the lookout for something to make them feel a little more comfortable when the thermometer is up in the nineties and the energies down to zero. Of course we can all talk, advice is cheap, which probably accounts for so much of its being given away gratuitously, yet the following hints are really worth following: To begin with, don't fret and stew because it is so warm. It won't reduce the temperature the hundredth part of a degree, yet it will have a tendency to make you hotter than ever before in your life. Therefore, it is to be avoided religiously.

Next wear thin clothes and eat light food, such as salads, ices and cold tea, and avoid heavy, hot and greasy viands. From 5 to 7 in the morning let the air have full sway through the rooms of your house; after that close the shutters and doors until sundown, when they should again be thrown wide open until bed time. In this way the heat of the day is kept out and the sweeter cooler breezes of the dawning and the waning hours are given full sway. Then during the heated term place a big dish of water in the room where it seems most oppressive. Change it once or twice and you will find that the temperature will be perceptibly lowered. It won't hurt you to try these simple methods and may add greatly to your comfort.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The Council Meets in Regular Session to Consider and Dispose of Many Weighty Matters.

RESOLUTIONS AND ESTIMATES.

Whereas, The city civil engineer has reported to the common council that Frederick Oetting has fully completed and fulfilled his contract for grading with brick the sidewalks on both sides of Mechanics street from Boone street to Bean street; and,

Whereas, the common council has approved said report of the city civil engineer and found that said improvement has been made and completed according to the terms of the contract therefor made. Now, in order that a final estimate thereof may be made, be it

Resolved, That the city civil engineer be required to report to the common council the following facts:

1st. The total cost of said improvement.

2d. The average cost per running foot of the whole length of that part of said sidewalks so improved.

3d. The names of each property owner on that part of said sidewalks so improved.

4th. The number of front feet owned by the respective property owners that part of said sidewalks so improved.

5th. The amount of such cost for said improvement due upon each lot or parcel of ground bordering on said sidewalks, which amount shall be ascertained and fixed by multiplying the average cost per running foot by the number of running front feet in the several lots or parcels of ground respectively.

6. The description, together with the owner's name, of each lot or parcel of ground bordering on said part of said sidewalks so improved.

CHAS. H. BRUX.

Adopted.

REPORT OF CITY CIVIL ENGINEER.

1. I would respectfully report that the total cost of the improvement of grading and paving with brick the sidewalks on both sides of Mechanics street from Boone street to Bostick street made under contract with Frederick Oetting and recently completed by said Frederick Oetting is $118.11.

2. That the average cost per running foot of said sidewalks as improved, is 28c.

3. You will find hereto attached a list of the names of each property owner on that part of said sidewalk so improved.

4. Also, attached the number of front feet owned by the respective property owners on that part of said sidewalks so improved.

5. Also, attached the amount of such cost for improvement due from each lot or parcel of ground bordering on said sidewalks. I would further report that there is due from the city of Fort Wayne for the cost and expenses of so much of said work as is occupied by the crossings of streets the sum of $1.12, leaving a balance to be assessed against the property owners as aforesaid of $117.22.

F. M. RANDALL, city civil engineer.

Concurred in and estimate referred to the committee on streets, city attorney and civil engineer.

Resolved, That the city clerk give two week's notice in the Fort Wayne Daily Sentinel that on the 12th day of September, 1892, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., at the office of the city civil engineer, that a special committee of said council, appointed for the purpose of giving a hearing on the report of the city civil engineer, heretofore ordered for the purpose of making a final estimate of the improvement of grading and paving with brick the sidewalks on both sides of Mechanics street from Boone street to Bostick street made and completed by John Mecann, and at said time and place said special committee will hear all objections as to said reports, and accord a hearing thereon.

C. H. BRUX.

AFRAID HE WOULDN'T PASS.

A Man With a Bad Family Record in Quest of a Life Insurance.

He was a man well along in middle age, and was willing to be insured. The agent had prepared his "application" and turned him over to the searching scrutiny of the accomplished medical examiner.

"I might as well tell you doctor, right to begin with, that ours has been a family of fatalities and sudden deaths," said the applicant.

The examiner looked serious as he replied: "Why you seem to be in excellent physical condition. What did your father die of?"

"Heart disease."

"That's bad." How old was he?"

"Ninety-two."

"Um! And your mother?"

"She's gone to. Killed at a railroad crossing."

"And her age?"

"Mother was a little over 76."

"Do you know the age and cause of both of your grandfathers' deaths?" continued the examiner.

"Yes, indeed. Father's father died just a week after his ninetieth birthday. They said he used too much tobacco. Mother's father was only 88. Falling down stairs finished him."

"And your grandmother?"

"One of 'em had consumption at 86 and died of it in no time. The other was nipped by sun-stroke at 84. Oh, they all went quick."

The examiner did not seem so grave as he asked, "Have you any brothers or sisters?"

"One sister and two brothers," was the answer. "John went out into the mining country when he was 72; got into trouble there; called a drunken man a liar and got shot. Henry was drowned at 69 trying to help save two young fellows that couldn't swim. Sister's alive. She's awfully careless; ate a lot of green stuff the day of her golden wedding, then danced in the evening with all the old fellows out on the lawn, even after it was raining; took her two days to get over it. She'll go in a hurry like all the rest some of these times."

"Well," said the medical gentleman, smiling, "I think I'll chance you, and don't believe your application will be turned down at the home office. Only you must look out for yourself. Be careful about catching hard colds after you are 80 years old."

Men of Great Height.

Turner, the naturalist, declared that he once saw, upon the coast of Brazil, a race of gigantic savages, one of whom was 12 feet in height. M. Thevet, of France, in his description of America, published in Paris in 1575, asserted that he saw and measured the skeleton of a South American which was 11 feet 2 inches in length. The Chinese are said to claim that in the last century there were men in their country who measured fifteen feet in height. Josephus mentioned the case of a Jew who was 10 feet 2 inches in height. Pliny tells of an Arabian giant, Gabara, 9 feet 9 inches, the tallest man in the days of Claudius. John Middleton, born at Hale, in Lancashire, in the time of James I., was 9 feet 3 inches in height; his hand was 17 inches long and 8½ inches broad, says Dr. Platt, in his "History of Staffordshire." The Irish giant, Murphy, contemporary with O'Brien, was 8 feet 10 inches. A skeleton in the museum of Trinity college, Dublin, is 8 feet 6 inches in height, and that of Charles Byrne, in the museum of the College of Surgeons, London, is 8 feet 4 inches. The tallest living man is Chang-tu-Sing, the Chinese giant. His height is 7 feet 3 inches.—Tid-Bits.

A Nice Legal Point.

A negro whose bruised and swollen face and tattered clothing bore evidence of rough handling recently limped into the presence of a Southern magistrate.

"I want you ter arrest Sam Johnsing foh batt'ry, sah," he exclaimed.

"For assault and battery, you mean," suggested the dispenser of justice.

"No, sah. Jess foh battery, sah."

"How can that be?"

"Well, sah, it wuz jess dis way. Mah mewl bruk intoh Johnsing's coln patch, an' w'en Johnsing druv 'im hum he call me a no good, fool niggah."

"Yes."

"I wa'n't gwine toh stan' dat nohow, so I ups an' guff him a whack with a fence stake, sah."

"Why, then you assaulted him!"

"Yes, sah, I did, sah. But he dun do batt'ry. He mos' battered de life outen me, sah!"—New York Herald.

Among the Esquimaux.

Along the Arctic coast men cut off the hair on top of their heads so that they look like monks, the object being to avoid scaring the caribou by the flutter of their locks. The Esquimaux are fond of eggs not yet hatched, but about to be. They are much addicted to the use of liquor and tobacco and it is a common thing to see a nursing infant with a quid of tobacco in its mouth.

Of Two Evils Choose the Lesser.

"I told you," said the teacher, apologetically, to Tommy, "that I should whip you if you didn't tell your father you had run away from school, didn't I?"

"That's all right," responded Thomas. "I didn't tell him. One of your lickin's is a picnic by the side of one of dad's.

Photographing Under Water.

Photographing under water has actually been carried out, so it is said. Experiments were made in 1889 in the Mediterranean to ascertain how far daylight penetrated under water. In very clear water, near Corsica and eighteen miles from land, the limit of daylight was found by means of photographic plates to be 1,580 feet.

One Expressive Word.

A Vermont lady had removed from her native place to California. She went to live in Oakland. She found life there very agreeable at first; but, before long, she began to experience distressing physical sensations. She became nervous, fretful, and very uncomfortable; she lost much of her sleep at night, and much of her happiness by day. At last she resolved to consult a physician, and did so, calling to see a bright light in the profession. She gave him a very full account of her symptoms and then asked: "What is it that ails me, doctor?" "Fleas, ma'am," answered the doctor. For this information the Vermont lady paid the doctor's minimum consultation fee of five dollars, and went her way, but not rejoicing.—Argonaut.

A Love Match.

Miss Murray Hill—I hear that you are engaged to be married.

Miss Madison Square—Yes, it's a fact, and my future husband is the handsomest and best of men.

"Then it's purely a love match, I suppose?"

"O, entirely so, entirely."

"Has he got money?"

"What an absurd question. O, course he has got money—lots of it."—Texas Siftings.

Stags Are Expensive.

Every stag that falls in a Scottish forest, it has been calculated, costs the lessee from £30 to £50, but as what is termed "butcher's meat," these animals, if placed on the market would not yield to those who kill them more than sixpence per pound.

Electricity and the Millenium.

A writer in a recent magazine article declares that the day is not far distant when the entire labor, from the preparing and tilling the ground to the transportation of the crops to the railway station, will be performed by electric motors.

A Pleasant Reflection
—the fact that easy washing has been made safe. Until Pearline came, it was dangerous. Pearline takes away the danger as it takes away the work. There is no scouring and scrubbing, to wear things out; there is no trouble in keeping things clean. Pearline is better than soap. With soap, you need hard work; for easy work, you need Pearline.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THOUSANDS visit Lakeside every pleasant Sunday to see the wonderful development of that pretty suburb. So rapidly are the new and handsome cottages going up that even a single week makes a great difference in the appearance of things. Prices of lots are commencing to stiffen and a delay of a month or two is liable to cost you $50 or $100. Better select your lot at once. The [illegible] company will furnish you with money [illegible] and let you pay it back in monthly installments.

MONEY TO LOAN—The Tri-State Building and Loan Association will loan you money to pay a mortgage or build you a home at a less rate than anyone else. Do not pay rent or a high rate of interest when you can get the money of the Tri-State Building and Loan Association at a low rate and on such easy terms. One thousand dollars at $12, $11 or $17 per month, to suit borrower. Call at the office of the Association, rooms 12 and 14 Pixley and Long block, and secure full particulars. 27-tf

RALWAYS AND SHOPS.

Brakeman Keller Narrowly Escapes Death by the Wheels—Other Items of Local Interest.

R. F. Keller is a brakeman employed on the west end of the Pittsburg railroad and at present he lies in bed at his home, No. 64 Pontiac street, the victim of a painful accident. Yesterday Mr. Keller left Chicago with his train for the east. While in the yards where dozens of trains were running to and fro he was caught between two passing box cars and crushed and bruised severely. At the time of the accident Keller was clinging to a ladder on the side of a car when struck by another car which was passing, and knocked to the ground. Luckily he did not fall beneath the wheels, else this notice would have been an obituary. As it was, his collar bone was broken and his body and head lacerated and bruised in several places. The train crew picked the unfortunate man up and he was brought to this city last evening and placed under Dr. G. C. Stemen's care.

BRIEF MENTION.

The agents of the freight and passenger offices in Terre Haute are arranging to close their offices the year round at 4 p. m. on Saturdays.

Superintendent Gould, of the Wabash, will not reinstate Conductor Kinney, who was discharged for denouncing a section man who refused to strike.

Engineer D. W. Rhoads reported at the Pittsburg offices for duty. He has been sick for over six weeks and his recovery is welcomed by a host of warm friends.

W. P. Johnson, the Nickel Plate fireman, fell from the tank of his engine while taking water at Claypool, Ind., Wednesday afternoon. His back was seriously injured.

Charles Lonergan, passenger conductor on the Lake Erie and Western road, is suffering with a severe attack of tonsilitis. He was unable to go out on his run today.

John Railsback, who some months ago was dismissed as passenger conductor on the Pennsylvania lines, running between Logansport and Cincinnati, has been reinstated.

Jacob Wiesmer, formerly clerk at the Olds works in this city, is now at Indianapolis with the American Wheel works. Mr. Wiesmer has fine clerical abilities and has a bright future.

The Baltimore and Ohio company has decided to spend $4,000,000 in rebuilding its new acquisition, the Pittsburg and Western, shortening its line between Pittsburg and Chicago, and avoiding some very heavy grades.

Al. Little, a painter in the Pittsburg shops, has embarked in the tile milling business at Wallen. Mr. Little, who is ill at present, will retain his position in the railway shops, while his son-in-law looks after their interests at Wallen.

It has been decided to build an extension of the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa railroad from Knox eastward to South Bend, Ind. The preliminary survey has already been made and work on the extension will probably be begun September 1.

F. G. Conrady, of the Pittsburg shops, had the calf of his right leg painfully lacerated yesterday by a nail. Conrady fell from a car and alighted upon a board filled with sharp nails. Dr. George C. Stemen, the company's surgeon, stitched the wound.

Tomorrow Henry Korson, of the Pittsburg car shop, will go to Cedarville to visit relatives.

The Wabash railroad in July earned $1,114,000, a decrease compared with July, 1891, of $274,000.

Thomas Smith, the veteran painter in the Pittsburg shops, leaves tomorrow for Harrisburg, Pa., where he will be the guest of relatives a few weeks.

Brakeman O'Rourke, recently of the Lake Erie and Western road, with headquarters at Lima, Ohio, is in the city. He will probably make this his home in the future.

Henry Dreier is having a serious time with neuralgia. He has now been a sufferer with that painful malady for two weeks. Mr. Dreier is one of the popular blacksmiths in the Pittsburg shops.

John Burlage, the tinner in the east car shops, wears a pleasant smile nowadays, as he gently murmurs, "Hush, my dear, lie still and slumber." John is a papa, and the boy weighs twelve pounds.

Next week the National Florists' convention will be in session in Washington, D. C. The Keystone express next Sunday will have attached two special Pullman coaches bearing the Chicago florists eastward.

The Pennsylvania and Wabash roads are now advertising the Knights of Pythias convention at Kansas City, which will be held August 19 to 22, inclusive. The fare has been placed at $8.50 for the round trip.

J. C. Roy, hostler at the Nickel Plate round house, is at work again after attending the funeral of his brother at Academie. His brother and sister, who are sick at the St. Joseph hospital, are now improving in condition.

Charles Walsh and William Beck, two jolly fellows, are spending a few days with friends in the city. They are former Fort Wayne boys but at present live at Dunkirk, Ohio, where they are employed in a stone quarry.

Auditors Hill and Dodd, of the Lake Shore and Lake Erie and Western railroads respectively, have left the city after checking up Agent E. S. Philley's accounts. The auditors are well pleased with the business at this point.

The longest railroad in America is the Canadian Pacific, the main line of which is nearly three thousand miles in length. The company controlling the largest mileage is the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, it owning or operating by lease under one system 7,381 miles of main track.

The Big Four road is in a peculiar predicament in consequence of its unprecedently large freight business. Tuesday it hauled 5,000 cars, and 1,000 were left untouched because of the inadequate supply of locomotives. The company has ordered fifty new engines, but they will not be delivered for some time.

Tomorrow afternoon, at League park, the Penna base ball club will "do up" a picked nine from ball players of the city. The game will be one of the best of the season. The clubs are evenly matched and are going to play ball the best they know how. Another game will take place on the same grounds Sunday afternoon.

John Ross, the Pittsburg ticket agent, is annoyed frequently by persons who call at his office at inopportune moments for postage stamps. To accommodate such persons and to relieve himself he has placed a machine on the window sill in the ticket office. Drop a nickel in the slot, press a button and an envelope containing two stamps appears.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy will within the next twelve months expend $10,000,000 in extensions, track betterments and equipments. One million will be expended at its St. Louis terminal. Contracts are now being let for fifty locomotives, sixty passenger coaches, fifty chair cars, one thousand stock cars and two hundred furniture cars.

James A. Ludington, the machinist in the Pittsburg shops, is the happiest man in the works. This morning the mail carrier handed him a formidably looking envelope, which was found to contain a draft from the pension department for $1,800. THE SENTINEL reporter immediately struck Jim for a loan of 25 cents and got it. Mr. Ludington says he will put on the skates tonight and go around the belt line.

A United Press dispatch from Chicago reads as follows: "It is announced here that the management of the Northern Pacific and Wisconsin Central railroads will shortly be consolidated, the latter road becoming a part of the Northern Pacific. The ratification of the consolidation will take place in New York within the next two weeks. The Wisconsin Central has been a part of the Northern Pacific for several years, having been leased by the big trunk line. The consolidation will do away with the general offices of the Central, and Edwin H. Abbott will probable retire from the presidency."

A RELENTLESS FIGHT.

A Bitter and Unrelenting Combat Between A Boa-Constrictor and Tiger.

This is the story of a duel to the death between two wild creatures in the remote forests of South America. The battle was watched from beginning to end by Manuel, the tiger hunter. The duel was between a spotted tiger and a boa-constrictor.

It was in the afternoon of a hot day that Manuel walked softly down the path that led to the camp, but upon this occasion he was creeping along with unusual stealthiness, for he had a pretty clear idea that a tiger was walking along the path a short distance in front of him. At the proper time he would attract the tiger's attention and offer him battle. Within a few hundred yards of his hut the hunter became aware, from subtle animal instinct, that the tiger had stopped in the path.

The hunter paused and listened. There was a rustling in the leaves and a stirring in the undergrowth that he did not quite understand. Undoubtedly the tiger had found something that attracted his attention. The rustling ceased for a moment, but began again a trifle more vigorously. Then came a low, muffled growl and thrashing among the leaves, as though the tiger was showing his teeth and swinging his tail from side to side. The hunter crept forward like a shadow. At a curve in the path he stopped short. A strange thing was going on in the narrow path a few yards before him.

A tiger was pacing back and forth, with his tail waving and his hair bristling in sudden anger. In front of him lay a huge boa-constrictor, coiled ready for a spring. The big snake's eyes shone like diamonds in the sun, and his tongue darted in and out like forked lightning. His great coils were quivering with rage and fury. What had stirred up those two wild creatures to a pitch of anger Manuel was unable to say. The snake had probably been in the path, about to seize some small animal, when the tiger appeared and broke the spell. The tiger wanted the right of way, or, at least, the chance to pass on one side; but the snake had only tightened its coils and stood its ground, with unmistakable signs of an aroused fighting disposition.

This annoyed the quadruped to such an extent that he showed his teeth, growled and thrashed his tail. It was at this instant that the hunter came along the path and stopped. Neither the snake nor the tiger saw him, and he stepped quickly behind a cactus bush to await his opportunity of being in at the death.

It very soon became apparent that there was to be a fight. Both creatures grew more angry each moment, and watching it all with intense interest, the hunter smiled as one might smile who noted the condition of a favorite gladiator.

While Manuel thought these thoughts these two wild things in the path moved back and forth, as though sparring for an opening. The snake was alert with sullen anger, his glistening head darting here and there like flashes of light. The tiger was not so vindictively savage, but his spotted hide quivered with wave upon wave of rising anger.

At length the tiger, unable to restrain his rage, leaped at the serpent's swaying head like a dazzle of light, but the snake's head was not there. The tiger landed in the path on the other side of the snake, but almost before he had touched the ground a glistening coil had been thrown over him. He gave a thrilling cry and leaped fully a dozen feet in the air. He landed safe and unharmed on his own side of the path, a little shaken up perhaps but still full of good fighting blood.

The snake was back in an instant, coiled ready for defense. The tiger crouched in the path as if about ready to spring. The snake quivered with nervous preparations. The hunter caught his breath in quick anticipation. This was the critical moment. Furious beyond all control, the two wild creatures sprang upon each other in the same instant. For a scant half second there was poised in the air a yellow blur, wrapped about with great glistening coils like the trunk of a small tree, and then the snake and the tiger rolled in the dust together.

It was a grand battle, and right nobly was it fought. The serpent's coils were tightening about the tiger with strained convulsive movements of the shining skin, but the tiger's long teeth and sharp claws were buried deep in the serpent's neck and body. In that terrible embrace there could be no result other than death.

Tighter grew the great coils; the tiger's bones were cracking one by one. Deeper sang the long teeth; the serpent's life-blood was forming little pools in the dust.

Convulsively the fighters rolled in the path, but weaker and weaker grew their struggles. The end was coming. Perhaps foreseeing it, the tiger made one frantic, desperate effort to free himself from the deadly embrace, but the blood-streaked coils only tightened the more. Then the tiger again sank his teeth and claws into the serpent's neck and body. He would die as he had lived, a thing of unshaken courage. The serpent, in a spasm of pain and dying rage, tried once for all to crush his enemy into a shapeless mass, but his flesh and muscles had been sadly torn away, and his neck was breaking under the tiger's teeth.

The hunter caught his breath hard and stepped from the shelter of the cactus bush. The end was at hand. Death was glazing the eyes of the tiger; the serpent's head fell helplessly to one side. There was a feeble struggle in the shoulders of the tiger, a galvanic shudder in the coils of the serpent, and then all was still. It was over.

A CITY OF PIGMIES.

When Did the Little People Live and What Was Their Doom?

In a quaint old geography which I once had the good fortune to own the western coast of South America was decorated with tiny figures of men and women among whom meandered the words: "The land of the Pigmies." More modern maps make no mention of such people, says a writer in Youth's Companion, and I had forgotten that I had believed in their existence, when I happened lately to come across them again.

A few months ago, perched on the summit of one of the highest of the Peruvian Andes, were discovered the ruins of a wonderful pigmy city, the home of a race of dwarfs; and some of its most interesting relics—all that were transportable—are now on their way northward, to find a resting-place in our national museum at the Smithsonian institution at Washington.

From these discoveries it appears that the old belief in a tiny race, inhabiting the lowlands on the Pacific coast, was well-founded. There the little people lived, unmolested, so far as we know, for an indefinite time, till they were at last driven back upon the mountains by a larger and stronger race. Then they built and occupied the deserted city which today excites our wonder.

This city of the past is built with great care, 15,000 feet above the level of the sea, surrounded by a wall twelve feet high and three feet thick. In its center is a high rock, crowned by the citadel, which is still in a fair state of preservation.

The houses were all flat-roofed, covered with flat pieces of stone, overlaid with earth to keep out the rain. Each stood distinct from its neighbors, and opened into the common courtyard, which had a single gateway into the nearest street. The street was about two feet wide. From three of the courts openings have been found, leading down into round rooms six feet in diameter, unlighted and dreary, which may have been used as dungeons.

In another part of the little city have been found several mummies of adults. One of them is twenty-seven inches tall—an acknowledged chief and ruler, perhaps, by virtue of his majestic height and bearing.

When did the little people live? How long ago did their carefully built homes fall into decay? What was their doom? How strange it seems, that after—it may be—thousands of years, they should live again for us, and the last tokens of their existence be brought to excite the attention of the newest nation of the world.

IT PAYS TO BE POLITE.

A Clerk in a Postoffice Gets a Farm for Her Courtesy.

The old saying, "It pays to be polite," has been illustrated in the Tacoma postoffice in favor of Miss Margaret J. Reese, the stamp clerk, a pretty young woman of 21, says a Seattle special to the New York Sun. L. O. Landers, a grizzled, crabbed, one-legged old fellow, has a fine farm on Vashon Island, near Tacoma. Although he lives the life of a hermit it is believed that he is rich for the Vashon fruit lands are among the most productive in the state, and his farm has been under cultivation for a number of years. He visits the Tacoma office every week or two, and he always asks Miss Reese to get his mail, for she went to considerable trouble in looking up a letter for him once, and he thinks no one else in the office is to be trusted.

Some months ago, after she had handed him his mail, he laid $200 in gold on her counter, saying, "That's for you." Before the astonished girl had comprehended the act he was gone. She was so indignant that she wept, and when Landers returned she gave back the money, telling him she supposed he had forgotten it. He was much hurt, but later he left at a local jewelry shop an order for a diamond necklace and earrings for her, and in explanation he said to the shopkeeper that she was the only person who had ever spoken a kind word to him.

The jewelry was refused also by Miss Reese, but Landers was not to be thwarted in his desire to make her understand his gratitude, for a day or two ago he stumped into the postoffice and, thrusting a paper into her hand, remarked that it was something she could not return. Miss Reese, on opening the document, found it was the deed for five acres of land, which, she has been told, is worth $60 an acre. She is at present in a quandary as to what course she shall pursue.

Saved a Woman's Life.

Mr. J. E. Thoroughgood, writing from Georgetown, Delaware, says: "Two teaspoonfuls of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy saved the life of Mrs. Jane Thomas, of this place." He also states that several other very bad cases of bowel complaint there have been cured by this remedy. For sale by druggists.

AN ACROBATIC MOUSE.

It Does the High-Wire Act In Spite of the Sparrows.

An amusing incident was witnessed some time ago in a street in Liverpool, in which a small mouse figured as a high wire performer, attracting the attention of a large number of spectators of both sexes. When the mouse was first seen he was on a telegraph pole, and is supposed to have come from one of the telegraph conduits, which are infested with mice. From the pole the little rodent proceeded to walk deliberately along one of the telegraph wires.

He had not advanced far when he was seen by two sparrows, which immediately showed fight, probably because they thought the wires the exclusive property of their tribe and resented the intrusion. The sparrows would swoop down as near as they dared, giving vent to their peculiar shrill notes of anger; but as the mouse also showed fight, they were a little afraid of making too close an acquaintance.

The two sparrows were soon joined by others, and if their cries had been of any avail would have come off victorious. As it was the mouse traveled on to the next pole in safety, and quickly descending to the ground was soon lost to sight.—Animal World.

Simple Method of Removing Wrinkles.

It is easier to remove winkles than to eradicate any other defect of the face, and yet we daily see many faces, otherwise beautiful, rendered prematurely old by that shrinkage of the tissue we call wrinkles. A simple, but positive, treatment is Marquard's Rose Cream, which not only disperses wrinkles speedily but also removes pimples, blotches, eruptions, and lends an exquisite glow and transparency to the complexion. Fruit House Prices for 1892.

The season of 1892 opens auspicious for the purchaser. There are few lines of goods but what there has been a decline in, and especially in sugars, but also in Coffees, Raisins and California Dried and Canned Fruits. When Sugars touched 5c for Granulated every one felt as this would be bottom, for that was a plump reduction of 2c per pound, but now Granulated is 4½, another half-cent decline. At no time in World's History has Sugars been so low as now. We even sell a good

The Tea Market has undergone no change, indeed they are so cheap now, that there is little likelyhood of their going lower. The trade in them is growing rapidly. We now sell twenty chests, where we formerly sold one. The secret of our great Tea trade lies in the fact that we purchase direct of the importer, and retail direct to our customers, thereby saving them the profit of the jobber and wholesale merchant which is at least 10 to 20c per pound.

Will McClelland, Will Gouty and Harry Pickard, members of the Fort Wayne Cycling club, last evening broke the record on local runs. They covered the "belt," viz., on Wayne to Broadway, to DeWald, to Hanna, to Wayne and thence to the club rooms again in exactly fifteen minutes and thirty seconds. This is a distance of four miles.

The lawn social at the Grace Reformed church was a delightful success. The lawn was beautifully illuminated with Japanesse lanterns and a head-light, while the Blue Tassle club discoursed fine music for the large gathering of people. The ladies were busy until a late hour furnishing their guests with cake and cream, but they will realize a nice sum from their effort.

C. E. Adamson, of the Adamson company, of Muncie, has been in the city a few days doing business with the printers. The company owns a patented process for printing type written letters. All kind of form letters are printed by the process, so that they match the writing of any type writer perfectly. THE SENTINEL has the right to do the printing for its patrons.

While the funeral procession of the late lamented Mrs. Griebe was wending its way to Lindenwood yesterday afternoon and when near the Grand Rapids railroad crossing, a spirited horse took fright at a passing locomotive and started to run away. The frantic actions of the horse had the result of causing a general stampede among the animals immediately following and in less than a minute there was a confused mass of tangled vehicles and rearing horses. Among them was the horse of H. F. Hilgeman, the ex-councilman, who, with his family, was attending the funeral. Before Mr. Hilgeman could control the horse, his wife was thrown from the buggy and so severely injured that she remained unconscious some time. No serious results are anticipated.

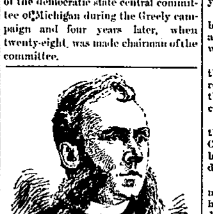
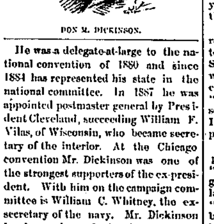
Men Who are Prominent in the Politics of Today.

Don M. Dickinson, the new chairman of the democratic national campaign committee hails from Michigan and is forty-six years old. He was secretary of the democratic state central committee of Michigan during the Greely campaign and four years later, when twenty-eight, was made chairman of the committee.



DON M. DICKINSON.

He was a delegate-at-large to the national convention of 1880 and since 1884 has represented his state in the national committee. In 1887 he was appointed postmaster general by President Cleveland, succeeding William F. Vilas, of Wisconsin, who became secretary of the interior. At the Chicago convention Mr. Dickinson was one of the strongest supporters of the ex-president. With him on the campaign committee is William C. Whitney, the ex-secretary of the navy. Mr. Dickinson is a lawyer by profession, but has practiced very little since entering politics.



SENATOR WILLIAM B. ALLISON.

Senator William B. Allison, of Iowa, has just been named to act as chairman of the American delegation to the International Monetary conference which is to meet in Brussels, to establish, if possible, an international agreement as to the parity of the metals. Senator Allison is the senior senator from Iowa and is now serving his third term in the upper house of the national congress. In 1888 he was the choice of northwestern republicans for the presidential nomination and his boom in Chicago was one of the most vigorously managed in the history of American political conventions. Senator Allison is one of the ablest financiers in the country and was prominently mentioned for the position afterward given to William Windom, the late secretary of the treasury. He was offered the position of minister plenipotentiary at one of the leading European capitals, but preferred to represent his state in the senate, where he has always ranked as a republican leader.

J. B. CRANFILL.

J. B. Cranfill, the prohibition candidate for vice president, was born in Parker county, Texas, thirty five years ago. He has been a doctor, a journalist and a preacher, and was for a long time chairman of the state prohibition committee of Texas. He is at present vice president of the Baptist Young People's Union of America and is a member from Texas of the national prohibition committee. He has achieved more distinction as an aggressive fighter against the liquor traffic than in any one line.

FLASHES OF WIT.

Hardly anybody would like to change places with the turtle, yet think of the snap he has.

Biggar—"I'd have you know I am a selfmade man." Digger—"I saw you make a donkey of yourself day before yesterday."

From time immemorial men have been held up for examples, and now and then they've been held up for what they had about their clothes.

Said the lecturer: "The roads up these mountains are too steep and rocky for even a donkey to climb therefore I did not attempt the ascent."

Harry—"Why don't you stand before the mirror when putting on your tie?" Chappie—"Because it is such demmed bad fawm to be seen befoah I am fully dwessed.

Mamma—"Which of the children hid my slippers?" Nurse—"Little Johnny hid 'em, ma'am." Mamma—"Then Johnny is the one who upset that jam downstairs."

Montauk—"Why didn't you go into politics, Alphonse?" The Barber—"Why, monsieur?" Montauk—"With your 'pull' (ouch) you'd take a place in the front rank."

First Pickpocket—"Say, you getting religion? I hear you have been going to church pretty regularly lately." Second Pickpocket—"I went there to work. And I haven't had a bite to eat for two days." First Pickpocket—"You never did have any business sense. Come on and I'll fill you up. I have been out to the races, where people take their money along."

They were organizing a land company when Jobson said to Hobson: "We've got everything ready. I've got an artist to paint a picture of the land as it is, and another as it will be." "But where is the land? Have you bought it yet?" "Bought it? Why, how can we buy it until we have sold our stock?" responded Jobson, who prided himself on being a financier. "It takes money to buy land."

CHEERY AND CHATTY.

Little Victor—"Mamma, my hands are dirty; shall I wash them or put on gloves?"

"What! Do you dine in that fourth-rate place?" "Only when I am not hungry. What's the use of wasting good food on a poor appetite!"

Rowley—"The sea air is very bracing." Surface—"Yes; but how can a man benefit by it when seaside hotels' prices cause nervous prostration?"

He—"Have you heard?" She—"What?" He—"Miss Spinster is going to be married." She—"Oh, yes, I've heard that ever since I can remember."

Penelope—"Why do you say Charlie Nixen is like a spy glass?" Perdita—"Because I can draw him out, see right through him, and when I am tired of him, shut him up."

"Eb'nezah!" "Ma'am?" "Is yoh bin lookin' watah millins f'm de mahkit?" "No'm." "Well, maybe you didn't. But I doan see how yoh am gwine ter prove an alibi fur dat colic."

"Josiah, did you go to see that skirt dance that we heard so much about?" "Yes, Samanthy, but law! it hain't got no chance to dance, for a girl stands inside of it most of the time and jist jerks it every which way."

Watts—"I wish I had the winning way about me that Vickars has." Potts—"Yes?" Watts—"Yes, indeed. Why, I saw him give a waiter a twenty-five cent tip, and he did it in such an ingratiating manner that the fellow actually handed him back forty cents change."
